Subject: Bill to Allow Universities to Donate Courses DOC

message: Dear Representative Slossberg,

I am a professor at Quinnipiac University and the Coordinator of QU 101, a required first year seminar, which my colleague, Professor Linda Meyer is now completing, "pro bono," for inmates and the York Correctional Facility.

Her father-in-law, Ed Meyer, is interested to sponsor a bill in the Ct legislature that would allow universities to donate courses to DOC without complying university-wide with "state contractor" obligations. This restriction is affecting not only Quinnipiac but Trinity University as well.

Mr. Meyer is going to try to raise the bill in the government administration committee this week.

I know that you are the chair of this committee. And I urge you to accept and shepherd this bill through the legislature so that Quinnipiac, Trinity, together with Wesleyan University can begin to create and sustain a Consortium of College Courses for CT's prisoners--most of whom will be returning to their communities to try to become responsible, engaged, reformed citizens.

Thanks for your attention,

Professor Timothy Dansdill
